Office Sat afternoon

Dear Debora

Matters are quickening about the slave notices are to be carried to all the churches to morrow, Lucia and I carry them to St Pauls & to Trinity. The meeting at Faneuil Hall got on with better success than stopped the Rundbills as they were being sent out with Stantons & Learitts names as speakers and rubbed out their names, so as to have it seem as every one spoke who pleased Mrs Follen dined with us. I went last night with Mary Robbins and Harvey to a lecture on Macbeth by Dana, at the Temple, poor thing Caroline will come out to Evy next week Tuesday and stay the rest of the week so that Lucia & Ann shall stay in till she comes back we are all well Edward has gone to Amherst last night, we expect him with Sarah to day I am in so great a hurry I hardly know what I say I hope you are all well Give my love to all Sweet Brook Cottage I hope Aunt Pris is better Mont let Hardy forget me. Caroline was at the office this morning where was Garrison & Boyd, Harriman & Mrs Fifield, the Mrs & and He talked oddly agreed with with Bolles's letter in the Herald, which Rogers ought to be hung for letting in, and with any remarks, Jurriston put down as a fiend and humbled her a good deal I can think of nothing more.

With much love
